

Invitation

Construction Dispute Negotiation Experiment

You are cordially invited to participate in an experiment on construction dispute negotiation. The experiment is part of a research project. The project is supported by the Research Grant Council of the HKSAR. The principal investigator is Dr. Sai On Cheung, Department of Building and Construction, City University of Hong Kong.

The research aims to investigate, among other objectives, the relationship between the orientation and behavior of construction dispute negotiators. Through the experiment, participants may understand more about their negotiation style. Subject to the approval of their supervisors, completion of the experiment may entitle the participants to 1½ CPD hours.

Particulars of the experiment:

Venue: City University of Hong Kong
Duration: Approximately 1½ Hours
